It's time! It's past time!!

The Obama administration must do more to crack down on gun smuggling by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles. They ALREADY do this with handgun sales. For heaven's sake, AK-47's are much more deadly than handguns yet they go unreported!! This is nonsensical.

The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

More than 30,000 people have been murdered in drug cartel wars.

THIS IS AN EMERGENCY. It demands our government's immediate attention.

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is demanding the authority to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines. For example, a dealer would have to tell the government every time a deer hunter in Sacramento or Amarillo finds a good deal on a pair of semi-auto .30-06s like the popular Remington 7400.

The ATF has no justification, no valid reason and probably no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations.

This action is, I believe, in response to the mis-informed reports from (1) fractions of the US Government (including elected officials with a separate agenda supporting restricting the 2nd Amendment rights of US Citizens), (2) over-zealous government officials, and (3) liberal members of the journalism profession with a slanted view of firearms. These reports would make a person believe the problem with firearms violence in Mexico results from guns sold in the US of A and transported across the border into Mexico. In reality, the majority of the semi-automatic and certainly almost all the fully automatic firearms in use in the violence in Mexico (driven by the drug cartels) come from the black market of stolen or mis-directed military firearms from around the world.

We, the United States, did not create the violence in Mexico and are not responsible for the actions of the cartels. We, the United States, should not see our 2nd Amendment freedoms trampled upon by our government. We should also not see government action that increases the opportunity of honest citizens to be made "criminals" by their own government for actions (or lack of actions) not previously illegal and mainly administrative in nature.

This is a bad plan, a bad policy, and should not be put into place.

Sincerely,,
Neal Jefferis

Dear Barbara Terrell,

In reference to the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review:
Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

Citizens and gun owners of the United States find it offensive that the U.S. Government in waging it's war against criminal acts of illegal entry across the U.S. Border wish to punish its citizens by gun control. We understand that there is a great problem with drug trafficking and automatic weapons...unfortunately U.S. Citizens do not buy the weapons that are being used by illegals that are fully automatic, and must have special requirements.

Because of the method you purpose to limit gun sales to U.S. Citizens, you will be once again be condemning law abiding citizens the right of protecting their possessions and their very own lives!

Best regards,

Norm McLaury

I am totally opposed to this action proposal. We don't have the resources to do this unnecessary action. Our government is already in such dire financial trouble, adding anything not necessary is unacceptable. I can't even guess the manpower hours it would take to keep track of these reports. It is just another step toward gun control which is all the federal government is after. I understand the need for some sort of action in the SW states where drug trafficking is so rampant. The answer is to secure the borders.....not to make ridiculous demands on an already strapped financial system. If we can spend that sort of money then spend it on the borders. That is or should be the #1 issue in this country today. Not only are arms, drugs, etc. being smuggled across the borders but terrorist can just walk in.

Sincerely,
Nancy Ashley

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

I cannot believe that this country is allowing the murder of innocent citizens in Mexico because of the sale of guns in the U.S. to the drug cartels. The gun rights advocates in the U.S. are in power and not allowing this to change. Shame on us!!! Obviously the sale of guns and ammunition/money is more important than the murder of innocent people in Mexico. How can the Mexican government possibly stop the drug cartels when they are able to arm themselves better than the Mexican police and military? This must stop!! As an American citizen I am horrified that we are allowing this to continue.

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Subject: Please OPPOSE the BATFE's proposal to report multiple sale of certain rifles

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Mrs. Terrell,

I would like to take a few minutes to express my dismay at the proposed law that would require gun shops to report firearm purchases to the ATF. I see no necessary reason to do this, and feel that it is a infringement on our nation's second amendment rights. perhaps we could focus our attention more on what is going on at the border instead of trying to police our "TRUE" citizens.

sincerely,

Dear Ms. Terrell,

I am writing to offer my comments on the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles" (attached).

The ATF proposes to require that certain firearms dealers "report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the [dealer] sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics: (a) Semi automatic; (b) a caliber greater than .22; and (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine."

As a Texas resident and U.S. citizen, I urge that ATF's proposal be rejected. The authority that the ATF requests goes beyond the authority granted to it by Congress. If U.S. agencies are free to ignore Congress (or, beyond that, the Constitution), then there is, in principle, very little that separates the U.S. from a police state.

Sincerely,

Nathan Tallent

Subject: ATF Long Gun Sales Reporting

Attention: Barbara A. Terrell

It has come to my attention, from friends and relatives that the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is demanding authority (per the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles.") to require all firearms dealers in the states of Arizona, California, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales when two or more semiautomatic rifles are sold within five consecutive business days, when the rifles purchased are larger than a .22 caliber and use detachable magazines. This says that a dealer would have to tell the federal government every time a deer hunter in any of the fore mentioned states were to find a good deal on a pair of any semi-auto .30-06 rifle intended for a father and son hunt like the popular Remington 7400 and other similar Winchester or Ruger brands.

Since the ATF has no authority (legally or morally) to require such reports and this would certainly burden law enforcement resources in paper work and wasteful investigations at high costs in a recession period, and would be one more pinch out of the Second Amendment Rights of Americans with the possibility of this being extended to more states including Colorado, I must request this requirement for the ATF be denied.

Respectfully,

Chess W. Neff

To whom it may concern,

The ATF does not have the authority to require reporting of gun sales. The Bureau's attempt to force reporting is a blatant "slap in the face" to law abiding Americans. It shows a non-American style lack of respect for the US Constitution and our US Legislative system.

Using the Mexican drug problem as an excuse is a lame way of shrouding the true intentions of this anti Second Amendment administration. Proper border patrol and enforcement is the answer. Infringing on law abiding citizens is not the answer. Focus on the core of the problem ... the porous border!

What happened to respect for the Constitution and the people's Laws?

This type of abusive activity by this administration will be noted and remembered in 2012.

I am a 66 year old lady, and if I want to buy any rifles, in Any Amount to hunt with or to protect myself with, I need to be able to do so without interference, Or having to fill out a lot of unnecessary paperwork or have my purchase reported like this is a communist country. This is in reference to the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles." I understand there is a rash of illegal's purchasing guns to run over the border. But what you don't understand they are also moving into the house next door. There hasn't been a holiday since 2000 that auto gun fire has not been used as firecrackers in the tiny community in which I live. There are multiples of non English speaking La Rasa and La Familia gangs breaking into houses and I need a rifle that can remove more than 10 to 12 people before I get hurt. They don't break in one at a time. Please UNDERSTAND.. Only the law abiding citizen cares about your laws. Those that don't will make multiply trips to the gun store using multiply names and documentation to purchase what ever they need. It's only those of us that comply with laws that this will affect in any way. Please wake up. Give the ordinary citizen the right to purchase, or hold, or use what ever we deem necessary for their protection. Every time you people in "authority" decide to make a law concerning the "2nd" amendment The Gangs and Illegal people throw a party. Because they know it doesn't apply to them. They don't care about your laws. If you need to speak with me you can contact me at this e-mail address or call (830) 367-3287 I'll be most happy to stand on my soap box and shout. Re: Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010 (Volume 75, Number 242, Page 79021), 60-Day Emergency Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

Ladies and Gentlemen,

The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms Licensees "report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics: (a) Semi automatic; (b) a caliber greater than .22; and (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine."

ATF does not have the authority to install such a requirement on licensees.

By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms.

But lawlessness in Mexico—driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers. The ATF is guilty of failing to make clear the flaw in the "90% of guns seized in Mexico come from the US" publicity. That is absolutely untrue; according to the GAO, the 3,480 guns positively traced to the United States equals less than 12 percent of the total arms (~30,000) seized in Mexico in 2008 of those submitted by the Mexican government to the ATF for tracing. This means that almost 90 percent of the guns seized in Mexico in 2008 were not traced back to the United States.

OMB must deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

Thank you,

Neil W Botting

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

The government needs to stay out of legitimate firearm sales transactions. Gun registration, in any form, is illegal and an affront to every American.

This is a comment on "60-Day Emergency Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles" as listed in the Federal Register, Vol. 75, No. 242, Friday, December 17, 2010.

Point (1) - The information will have negligible utility compared to the additional cost of collecting and analyzing the data. Guns that are bought as part of a multiple gun sale are not statistically more likely to be used in crime or for any other negative purpose than guns that are bought in a single gun sale. Since the information will have negligible utility, it is not necessary for the proper functioning of the agency. Secondly, the agency lacks the authority to even impose such requirements on dealers and individuals.

Point (4) - Given the pointless nature of the effort, the additional burden for those who must respond will simply harass individuals who wish to purchase multiple guns for whatever reason they have chosen to do so, which historically has overwhelmingly been for lawful purposes.

Dear Mrs. Terrell,

It has been brought to my attention that the BATF has requested approval to have gun dealers in four states, CA., NM, AZ, and TX, to report multiple long gun sales.

The action is supposedly in response to the crimes being committed in Mexico. I guess the idea is to curtail gun crime in Mexico, by limiting firearm sales in the U.S., this is not a viable action as there are multiple sources of firearms beside the United States and the drug dealers have large financial resources to purchase firearms any where in the world. The better action would be to close the American border with Mexico to keep the drugs and illegal aliens out of our country and prevent the drug cartels from reaping large amounts of cash from the United States.

I therefore bitterly oppose the BATF action as it won't work and will cast honest firearm owners as being responsible for the crimes in Mexico.

Respectfully,

Nelson Heckman

Regarding the proposed "Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles".

I would like to submit a comment. I am against this legislation for the following reasons:

1. I doubt its effectiveness. I think this will be a waste of resources.
2. We are free Americans. Our government should not be keeping lists of names of suspects when no crime has been committed.

I urge you to move against this kind of legislation.

Thank you.

Ms Terrell:

I recently read the posting in the Federal Register (OMB Number 1140-New), dated December 17, 2010. I also have read the correspondence from the National Rifle Association dated February 10, 2011 and addressed to the Office of Management and Budget regarding the same issue.

I do not understand the jurisdiction of the BATFE in establishing such an 'emergency requirement' for guns sales or disposition. As a collector and frequent attendee of antique and gun shows, I would find such a new restriction on many of the vendors as repetitive and administratively burdensome. There is currently registration of individual firearm sales so to collect such information regarding two or more sales over a five consecutive day period seems redundant. The licensees are doing your agency's administrative work!

The wording of the Federal Register also would imply not just sales to an individual but to be more reflective of the licensee's activity: when the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days. Does this mean any time a licensee sells two or more rifles in a five day work week? The wording does not specifically apply to sells to a specific individual, or to activity that occurs in two different weeks. In fact, the wording implies if the licensee sells two or more guns in a five consecutive business days!

Perhaps, more relevant is the question on how this information once collected will be utilized. That is really not apparent in the Federal Register request.

I believe your agency is attempting to broaden its scope of authority through administrative means for unclear and ineffective purposes. Your agency's job is to support the American public, and not add administrative burdens to our lives.

Subject: Support for the Reporting of Multiple Sales of Long Guns

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Re: Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010 (Volume 75, Number 242,

Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to you as a private law abiding citizen. I believe the collection of data proposed in the referenced notice should not be allowed.

The data will be useless.

The data may not be lawfully collected under current statutes.

It is discriminatory in nature due to the selected groups of dealers that would be required to comply.

It violates the privacy rights guaranteed to citizens of the United States of America.

It is another step by anti-gun forces in our government to bypass our laws and force their agenda and work toward a long registration system.

It is another cost to the businesses involved that is unnecessary.

The ATF has no legal authority to abridge 2nd Amendment rights by keeping track of gun sales. It's responsibility is to enforce federal law, not to create the law.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations.

I am opposed to this expansion of bureaucratic authority by the ATF.

Subject: Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

Ms Terrell,

I am against the proposed report of multiple sale or other disposition. I believe it is in direct conflict with my right to bear arms. It is also a complete waste of time. If the drug dealers want guns they will simply ship them in from other sources. Causing law abiding individuals to bear additional reporting requirements is completely unjust.

Drug dealers are breaking the law, not the average gun owner or buyer. This will not stop the trade, nor solve the problem.

Obama administration: please do more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Subject: Bad Law and waste of time and money

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is demanding the authority to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines. For example, a dealer would have to tell the government every time a deer hunter in Sacramento or Amarillo finds a good deal on a pair of semi-auto .30-06s like the popular Remington 7400.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations.

Darwin Nordquist

West Des Moines, Iowa

P.S.

BATFE's desire to mandate reporting of multiple long gun sales by border area firearms dealers is questionable since BATFE seems incapable of managing the criminal leads it already has and unwilling to submit to constitutionally mandated Congressional oversight.

Importance: High

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Subject: Proposed reporting of rifle purchases

Barbara,

We all would like to stop violence but another form to be filled out will not do it. The reporting of hand gun purchases has had little effect, if any, on the distribution of weapons to criminals who generally steal their weapons anyway. When ATF gets all weapons banned from the law abiding public, as seems to be their ultimate goal, they will still not be out of a job as weapons will be smuggled into the country just as drugs are. Putting additional cost and regulation on the law abiding gun owners and dealers does not stop the gun runners supplying fully automatic weapons and explosives such as grenades and launchers that the dealers you are regulating do not even sell. I watch the news, the weapons I saw taken from the captured drug runners could not have been purchased from a law abiding dealer (I was a gun dealer years ago). Please have ATF get out of their offices (and their noses out of useless paperwork) and go after the problem as I am paying them to do and leave the law abiding people alone. ATF over stepping it's authority is not the only problem in this country but when we vote the incumbents out we can start putting people in office and in ATF that do not want someone else to do their job (and their paperwork) for them. Taxpayers are not paying them to sit around trying to think up ways to make the public think they are doing their job. The CFR gets bigger and the government gets more inefficient under it's own rules. I should know, I am retired from state government. Barbara, my sympathies to you as your job has you putting up with disgusted taxpayers like me. I have always voted, but now I am seeing people as disgusted as myself getting out of their homes to vote out the problems in our government.

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on gun smuggling carried out by Mexican drug cartels.

In a drug war that's claimed the lives of 30,000 people in just four years, 90 percent of guns recovered and traced in Mexico have come from U.S. gun dealers -- and the violence is spilling back over the border into the United States.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require that dealers along the border report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already must for handgun sales.

The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books!

Thank you for your comment regarding the 60-day emergency notice of information collection relating to ATF Form 3310.12 (Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles), published in the Federal Register on December 17, 2010. The Federal Register and supplement form may be found at:

<http://www.atf.gov/regulations-rulings/rulemakings/general-notices.html>

The primary purpose of this program is to improve law enforcement's ability to identify firearms traffickers, to disrupt the criminal activity and to stop deadly violence plaguing the Southwest Border States and Mexico. The multiple sales reports will apply only to rifles that are semi-automatic, greater than .22 caliber, and have the ability to accept a detachable magazine. ATF intends to implement this program to require that Federal firearms licensees in the States of California, Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas complete the form for those transactions in which an individual purchases two or more of these rifles within five business days. We intend to evaluate the results at the end of a 1 year pilot period, at which time ATF may expand, narrow or discontinue the program. As mentioned in the notice, if granted by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), the emergency approval of the form is valid for 180 days. All comments received in response to the notice will be carefully considered and, if warranted, revisions to the form will be made.

Subject: Request for clarification -- reporting of multiple semi-auto rifle sales

1) Press releases have stated that the proposed requirement for reporting multiple semi-auto rifle sales would be for 1 years while the Federal Register stated it would be for 180 days. Please clarify which is correct.

2) Is the reporting for multiple sales of semi-auto rifles to the same person, similar to the 3310.4 handguns, or is it for multiple sales period? Press releases and the Federal Register seem to indicate the latter. Semi-auto rifles are quite popular and many, probably most, stores sell more than two a week.

3) The term "caliber greater than .22" is confusing. The .223 Remington, .22-250 Remington, .22 Hornet, .223 WSSM, .224 Weatherby, .220 Swift, 5.7x28 mm, 5.56x45 NATO, etc are all considered to be ".22s" even though the bullets are just 4/1000ths of an inch larger than a .22. The bore of the rifle as measured across the lands (not the grooves, across the grooves is slightly larger than across the lands) is always slightly smaller than the bullet by few 1000ths of an inch and that is where the measurement of the "caliber" is made. This same issue is involved with .50 caliber firearms as federal law sets the limit at bore diameters (again, across the lands) of 1/2 inch or .5 caliber. The bullets themselves are slightly larger than 1/2 inch at approx .510 inches/caliber, but due to the wording of the law, they are perfectly legal. As worded, the proposed rule would appear to exempt AR-15 pattern rifles in .223 Remington/5.56x45 NATO. or does the rule actually mean all "center-fire rifles with bores of .22 caliber and larger"?

Also, would it be possible to get a draft copy of the proposed form 3310.12?

Thanks,

Dave Hernandez

Re: Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010 (Volume 75, Number 242, Page 79021), 60-Day Emergency Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing on behalf of the National Rifle Association of America, Inc. (NRA), to offer our comments on this Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics: (a) Semi automatic; (b) a caliber greater than .22; and (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine.

Now, the OMB has denied the "emergency" request. But regardless of the timeframe in which approval is sought, ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees.

The Congress has comprehensively defined what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms. ATF seemed to understand that point when it responded in October to a recommendation for multiple long gun sales reporting by the Department of Justice Inspector General. ATF's comment on that recommendation was that it would "explore the full range of options" but that such a requirement "may require a change to the Gun Control Act."

These reports will be requested through "demand letters"—a mechanism that for many years had been used only to conduct firearm traces, to obtain aggregate manufacturing statistics, or to obtain contact information for buyers of certain firearms later declared to be subject to the National Firearms Act. Even when ATF began to use demand letters to seek a broader range of firearm transaction records, one court upholding that program cautioned that the demand letter statute "is not a limitless delegation of authority" and "cannot be construed in an open-ended fashion."

The scope of the proposed collection suggests in itself that the proposal exceeds ATF's statutory authority. The Fourth Circuit stressed that the letter at issue in the RSM case was sent to only 41 licensees out of the 80,000 licensees in the United States.

A second type of demand letter was sent to only 450 dealers nationwide. Now, ATF proposes to issue demand letters to approximately 8,500 licensees. That estimate appears to be based on the total number of licensed dealers and pawnbrokers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. If so, nearly one out of seven firearm retailers in the United States would receive demand letters for multiple rifle sales.

The burden estimate in the proposal appears to assume that each licensee subject to a demand letter will respond once during the proposed duration of the program. Given the great variety in size and sales volume among the thousands of licensees in the border states, this seems unlikely.

Even if the burden estimate in the proposal is correct, it is unclear how ATF could make effective use of the large number of reports that would be generated. Recent media reports suggest that ATF is already unable to handle dealers' voluntary, real-time reports of possible "straw purchases."⁵ If processing thousands of additional mandatory reports takes even more resources away from investigating these suspicious transactions, the proposed information collection may be more harmful than helpful.

The NRA is well aware that ATF would, understandably, like to take strong steps to address drug-related violence in Mexico. But lawlessness in Mexico—driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the International black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

Therefore, OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

Sincerely

Edward G Ogle Sr.

Barbra,

I am appalled at the ATF demanding some states to report long gun sales of multiple arms. More paper work and more laws seldom solve anything and the demand to track even more weapons is another bad idea. The lack of action to protect borders by the House, Senate, and President threatens to lead our country down a dark path. Spine-less comes to mind.

Enforce the laws on the books. Use common sense in business dealings. Arrest dealers who skirt the law. Protect the borders.

I'll volunteer to give two weeks of my life to stand on the border every year to stop the drugs, guns, and illegal aliens. I'm sick of Mexico dictating US policy.

I'll defend my country, my freedom, and you or any other US citizen with my life.

Please resend the demand for border states to report multiple sale of rifles and close up the border.

It's not rocket science.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations.

In a finical strapped Nation this is a total waste of resources and man power, resources that need to be addressing the real problems of crime.

The small arms purchase of one or two at a time by Law abiding Citizens has nothing to do with the guns used by Mexican nationals in a shootout with Border Patrol agents and will do nothing to keep weapons out of the hands of Criminals, Neither do they purchase their weapons from legitimate dealers on or two at a time in the manner of Law abiding Citizens do.

Example of Gun Control. Australian Gun Law Update

From: Ed Chenel, A police officer in Australia

Hi Yanks, I thought you all would like to see the real figures from Down Under.

It has now been 12 months since gun owners in Australia were forced by a new law to surrender 640,381 personal firearms to be destroyed by our own government, a program costing Australia taxpayers more than $500 million dollars.

The first year results are now in:

Australia-wide, homicides are up 6.2 percent,
Australia-wide, assaults are up 9.6 percent;
Australia-wide, armed robberies are up 44 percent (yes, 44 percent)!

In the state of Victoria alone, homicides with firearms are now up 300 percent. (Note that while the law-abiding citizens turned them in, the criminals did not and criminals still possess their guns!)

While figures over the previous 25 years showed a steady decrease in armed robbery with firearms, this has changed drastically upward in the past 12 months, since the criminals now are guaranteed that their prey is unarmed.

There has also been a dramatic increase in break-ins and assaults of the elderly, while the resident is at home.

Australian politicians are at a loss to explain how public safety has decreased, after such monumental effort and expense was expended in 'successfully ridding Australian society of guns....' You won't see this on the American evening news or hear your governor or members of the State Assembly disseminating this information.

The Australian experience speaks for itself. Guns in the hands of honest citizens save lives and property and, yes, gun-control laws affect only the law-abiding citizens.

Thank you O'Neal

Subject: Support for the Reporting of Multiple Sales of Long Guns

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Subject: Please OPPOSE the BATFE's proposal to report multiple sale of certain rifles

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Sincerely,
Orlando Esposito

Ms Terrell, This is to voice my opposition to require FFL holders to report multiple rifle purchases. It would cause needless book keeping and add un necessary time to do this reporting.

Subject: Gun Grab Try

Just a couple of weeks ago three teens tried to invade the home of an 80+ old couple. When the man answered the the hit him in the head with a ball bat. It required medical attention. He retrived his gun and shot two of the brothers. If you try to see fit to remove our protection then who will be to blame for the rise in attacks on us. We have had no home invasions since reported. Please think of those of us who are 10, 15, or 20 MIN.AWAY from the law .

Mrs. Terrell,

I am writing you to voice my objection to the new firearm legislation coming before you. I am an avid skeet/trap shooter and have purchased multiple fine quality shotguns within a 5 day period, also there are many "set" type shotguns out there which this legislation would prohibit. I am against any laws or sanctions that hinder law abiding citizens' ability to exercise their rights under the second amendment. There are plenty of valid laws already on the books which in most cases I feel are somewhat justified.

Please take into account what this law will do to the sporting community before you act.

Thank you,

Please refrain from passing anymore gun laws. There are enough laws on the books already.
Catch the violators and put them away with maximum sentences.

Thank you,
