Subject: FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:

White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition: (<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>).

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* "FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Respectfully,
Greg Jones

Please stop the ATF's plan to register Americans' gun purchases. I am referring to the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is demanding the authority to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines. For example, a dealer would have to tell the government every time a deer hunter in Sacramento or Amarillo finds a good deal on a pair of semi-auto .30-06s like the popular Remington 7400.

It's time that Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use it's authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Honestly, really? All you have to do is look north to Canada's attempt at this effort. It controlled nothing, it did not reduce firearm related crime (violent or otherwise). The program failed and they are now in the process of repealing the legislation. Please do NOT follow through with this action as noted per the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

To Whom It May Concern;

I was at a complete loss when I found out about the new "emergency" proposed measure of reporting to the ATF of long gun sales...

It is another attempt to put law abiding citizens under a microscope for simply exercising their right to legally purchase a firearm under the guise of events happening in ANOTHER COUNTRY !!!!! What is next ;? Keep track of how much rice I purchase because is a food riot in Bangladesh ???

Every time you purchase a firearm a check is performed to assure the legality of the transaction, that should suffice and satisfy all requirements as it has worked for all these years.

I plea and strongly urge you to dismiss such a "Reporting" program which strongly smells of a police state measure ! The citizens of this state and this country are watching your actions !

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Subject: Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

Dear Ms. Terrell, Firearms Industry Programs Branch

I am writing to offer our comments on this Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees "report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics: (a) Semi automatic; (b) a caliber greater than .22; and (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine."

The OMB has denied the "emergency" request. But regardless of the timeframe in which approval is sought, ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees. The reasons for that lack of authority, in short, is that Congress has comprehensively defined what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms. ATF seemed to understand that point when it responded in October to a recommendation for multiple long gun sales reporting by the Department of Justice Inspector General. ATF's comment on that recommendation was that it would "explore the full range of options" but that such a requirement "may require a change to the Gun Control Act."

These reports will be requested through "demand letters"—a mechanism that for many years had been used only to conduct firearm traces, to obtain aggregate manufacturing statistics, or to obtain contact information for buyers of certain firearms later declared to be subject to the National Firearms Act. Even when ATF began to use demand letters to seek a broader range of firearm transaction records, one court upholding that program cautioned that the demand letter statute "is not a limitless delegation of authority" and "cannot be construed in an open-ended fashion."

The scope of the proposed collection suggests in itself that the proposal exceeds ATF's statutory authority. The Fourth Circuit stressed that the letter at issue in the RSM case was sent to only 41 licensees out of the 80,000 licensees in the United States. A second type of demand letter was sent to only 450 dealers nationwide.

Now, ATF proposes to issue demand letters to approximately 8,500 licensees. That estimate appears to be based on the total number of licensed dealers and pawnbrokers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. If so, nearly one out of seven firearm retailers in the United States would receive demand letters for multiple rifle sales.

The burden estimate in the proposal appears to assume that each licensee subject to a demand letter will respond once during the proposed duration of the program. Given the great variety in size and sales volume among the thousands of licensees in the Border States, this seems unlikely.

Even if the burden estimate in the proposal is correct, it is unclear how ATF could make effective use of the large number of reports that would be generated. Recent media reports suggest that ATF is already unable to handle dealers' voluntary, real-time reports of possible "straw purchases." If processing thousands of additional mandatory reports takes even more resources away from investigating these suspicious transactions, the proposed information collection may be more harmful than helpful.

I am well aware that ATF would, understandably, like to take strong steps to address drug-related violence in Mexico. But lawlessness in Mexico—driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

Therefore, OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

Regards,

Gabino Alonso

Please do not allow this to take effect as it will have no impact in the attempt to curtail violence on the Mexican border. Instead it will use scarce law enforcement resources.

We live most of the year in retirement in Belize. Mexico is just to the North of us and has the most stringent and harsh penalties for possession of a firearm and/or ammunition. One can receive thirty (30) years in a Mexican jail for possession a firearm or ammunition. Yet such potential penalties have no noticeable effect on the crime rates or the possession and use of guns by criminals. Attempts to decrease availability of guns fail. That is a sad fact, but true. So, we cannot condone infringement on law abiding citizens' rights and imposition of a useless, time-consuming, and costly burden on gun dealers.

We don't know what the answer to the problem is. Short term, and perhaps even long term, it seems to be building of more jails and strict enforcement of existing gun laws.

The United States has spent billions attempting to stem the flow of illegal immigrants from Mexico to the United States. All the fencing, increased surveillance, and technology has failed to stem the tide. Again, a potential solution to deport any and all illegal aliens has failed to gain support. If we can't stop traffic in; why do we think we can stop traffic out?

Don't throw good money, time and effort after bad.

There is no proof that this would have any effect on illegal gun use. In fact the problem is in the term illegal itself. The law abiding citizens are not the problem. Granting such authority as requested would only impact those of us who are already responsible gun owners. It would simply be adding to the already burdensome and expensive paperwork involved in exercising our second amendment rights.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Subject: Notice of Information Collection Under Review of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

Dear Ms. Terrell,

I became aware of Information Collection by the BATF for all gun dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas because of the NRA. I am a recently retired Army First Sergeant and spent time in Operation Iraqi Freedom. I've put my neck on the line to defend our country and believe in government agencies taking actions to root out the bad guys. But this looks like another miss-guided action that will have little impact on the bad guys and give the good guys more cause to worry. Semi-auto and detachable magazine is an awful wide description. This will just divert manpower and money away from the real job of chasing down criminals. And I'm sorry, but it looks like an end run around the congressional ban on Gun registries. The NRA says this demand is illegal and I tend to think they are right in this case. Your analysis of the amount of time required to report this information is way off at the dealer end. You haven't even addressed the law enforcement side of record keeping and expense. These type of things have been tried before and law enforcement usually end up on the side that says it is not worth the effort.

I am opposed to this demand and I ask you to deny it.

Respectfully,

1SG(Ret) Brian Gaines

Subject: Oppose Regulation Expanding Multiple Sale Reporting

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:

White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition:

(<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>).

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* "FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

* This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Dear Ms. Terrell,

Please forget about the asinine long gun reporting proposal that requires all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines. This is a ridiculous waste of dealers time and will serve no useful purpose.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations (you know, like Project Gunrunner).....

Besides, isn't the ATF just supposed to be a tax collection agency?

I respectfully ask you and the other members of BATFE to NOT enact long gun sales reporting in the southwest states. Law abiding citizens do not buy guns to commit crimes. Each person who purchases any firearm has to go through a background check BEFORE purchasing a firearm, long gun or handgun. This proposed reporting system will only create more paperwork and hassle and will not stop any crimes as those who use firearms illegally do not bother to purchase their weapons legally.

There is absolutely NO justification for such regulation and the ATF has No legal authority to demand these reports.

The US Government has shown it's lack of enforcing current border protections and US citizens protection by not advancing and strengthening our borders reasonably. This is an attempt to cover up the Federal Governments reckless law suit actions and make it appear like they are doing something to stop the senseless and violent crimes being committed along our southern borders.

This is an attempt to illegally and unconstitutionally infringe on our second amendment rights.

Stop the illegal aliens from entering our country illegally and put an end to this stupid idea that we (American Citizens) are the problem. Start using common sense !

Subject: ATF's request to collect gun sales data

Mrs. Terrell,

Please have the ATF abandon their demands to have gun stores report sales. This is in reference to the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

Thanks,

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Subject: My Opposition to the Regulation Expanding Multiple Sale Reporting

Dear Ms. Terrell:

I am writing to oppose the proposed emergency regulation requiring the registration of multiple sales of certain rifles as described in FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary and there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation.

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C.

§ 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* Federal Firearms License holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

* This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Sincerely,

Gary A. Boncella

Seems like every time as gun owners and going by the law of the land that we do not need gun sales of long rifles to be added to the lists and what else will the Obama administration try that will make it harder to enjoy our hobby.

I am sorry that there are crazy people out there that can find a gun to use against other folks in the wrong way but whatever Brady and

Bloomberg etc. keep trying is never ending and I think the NRA is trying real hard to make things right for all folks that try hard to abide by the laws that are on the books now please do not let this gun sales law take effect. I certainly feel ATF has plenty on their plate and I don't even want more changes to gun registration I think it is set up just fine.

I am opposed to the “Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles.” Guns can be collected from any state and illegally transported south of our border. Requiring legal transactions to be registered won’t stop illegal sales or theft of guns.

The problem between the US and Mexico over drugs and guns is the fault of American citizens and their high demand for illegal drugs. How about punishing the people who are creating the demand for drugs and leave those of us who are doing legal activities alone?

Subject: More legislation?

Ma'am,

With all due respect, this country already has sufficient laws in place for the law-abiding citizens to follow. New, more restrictive legislation is not the solution. Enforce the laws already enacted. What, you say? They are not working? Yes, because those who don't follow existing law are not going to all of a sudden follow the new proposals if passed.

I am not an owner of any of the weapons currently being attempted to be legislated further. But I do believe that ATF resources would be better spent going after those who break existing law as opposed to spending unnecessary time and no doubt limited resources trying to further restrain the freedoms this country was founded on. No, not 2nd Amendment blah-blah-blah. But Freedom to live without the unreasonable involvement of the government - local, state, or federal - in every single aspect of our lives now-a-days. If Uncle wants to save more lives, then make it illegal to use a cellphone while driving. Texting and talking by distracted drivers kill a lot more people every day then does the sale of magazines with large capacity capability (in excess of twenty rounds)...

If weapons sold legally in this country are creating havoc south of us, then perhaps the real issue is with the security of our borders. If this stuff is going south so easily, just imagine what else they must be bringing north that isn't wanted or legal. Where are appropriate laws or resources for ICE? Spend our tax dollars protecting the border, not creating more unenforceable legislation on those who already follow existing doctrine.

The sad events in AZ last month only highlight we have created significant problems for this country for many years to come with the wholesale closing of psych wards in every state.... See. It's not ATF that has problems; its ICE, DOT, and HHS that are not doing a good enough job protecting us. (Although I suspect you are familiar with the "Darwin Awards" and the argument that the government already does too much protecting people from themselves...)

Thank you for your time and consideration.
Gary Nielsen

P.S.- I am a federal employee myself. I think I know of what I speak when referring to bureaucracy, limited resources, and laws which don't accomplish any more good than those already enacted.

Subject: Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010 on reporting multiple sales of long guns.

Ms. Terrell:

It is understandable that the U.S. Government would want to prevent the export of legally acquired weapons to Mexico for use by the drug cartels. However, denying U.S. Citizens of their Constitutional rights is not the way to go about it. ATF is clearly overstepping their legal authority by passing an "emergency" requirement that gun dealers in certain states must meet new documentation demands for multiple gun sales.

However, overstepping the Constitutional limits of your organization is not the only issue. There is no data to support this move – nor is their a plan to evaluate its effectiveness should it be implemented – nor is their a plan for rescinding the "emergency" order should the new requirement be ineffective. In all likelihood, if there was not a public outcry, the plan would be expanded to the rest of the U.S. as one more step toward total gun control...this is the camel's nose under the tent.

Finally, as I am sure you are aware, the high percentage of U.S.-derived arms found in the hands of the drug cartels is NOT based on the total number of arms recovered, but rather the number of arms that were traceable, i.e. the denominator is biased to make the impression that a large portion of the cartels' arms are of U.S. origin. I would be surprised if the vast majority of arms were not from Central and South America, even if U.S. manufactured. Stop trying to deceive the public with this nonsense.

Please be advised that as a resident of the United States of America I really do not care what the government of Mexico wants. My freedoms and rights have been fought for and our patriots have died for these freedoms. Mexico never has made the sacrifices necessary to live in a free society, therefore they live in a totalitarian society. As has been in the past, they want someone else to take the actions necessary to help them rather than helping themselves. Do not pander to the socialist's agenda by trying to disarm our free society. We have laws that are supposed to punish the people that commit crimes. Do so. We do not need more restrictions, we do not need more laws, we just need to enforce the ones we have. Tell Mexico to mind there own house, there own business, and to take care of there own citizens, rather than repressing them. "NO GUNS" do not work. If you can't see that, just look at Mexico. Their own people can not protect themselves. I personally do not trust the government to be solely responsible for my safety. You are responsible for border security and you sure don't do that job worth a darn, so I sure don't trust you with my life or my family's life. I love my country. Re: Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010 (Volume 75, Number 242, Page 79021), 60-Day Emergency Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

Dear Ms. Terrell,

I am writing to express my opinion on the ATF's request for an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics: (a) Semi automatic; (b) a caliber greater than .22; and (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine.

It is my understanding the OMB has denied the "emergency" request. But regardless of the timeframe in which approval is sought, I do not think the ATF has the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees.

I believe ATF would, understandably, like to take strong steps to address drug-related violence in Mexico. But lawlessness in Mexico, driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets, is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend its' scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

Therefore, I think the OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information. If you have any questions about my comments, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Further, if you need assistance in providing a more effective effort to disrupt the flow of arms, drugs, and illegals via a proper boarder fence, I would be more than happy to assist you and your office. I know of a way where we have the resources at hand and at a much reduced cost than those quoted in the government documents and/or other media.

Barbara,

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is demanding the authority to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semi-automatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines. For example, a dealer would have to tell the government every time a deer hunter in Sacramento or Amarillo finds a good deal on a pair of semi-auto .30-06s like the popular Remington 7400.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations.

Re: "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

The proposal to require that certain long gun sales be reported to ATFE by various dealers as may be specified by ATFE is clearly beyond the this organization's statutory limits.

These onerous reports, and the substantial cost of ensuing paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that would and should normally be spent on legitimate investigations within the organization's scope.

This proposal should and must be rejected, if for no other reason, on grounds of unconstitutionality.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

I am e-mailing you to urge you not to move forward with your demand/request to track info on ANY gun sales, mainly the ones that you are attempted to get info on in the Southwest states of the US. You have no consitutional right to do this and are overstepping your authourity.

New laws and restritctions only affect LAW ABIDING citizens. Bad guys get guns and won't give them back regardless of what you or any other agency demands by law. Bad guys don't abide by the way, hence the name BAD GUY.

Please do not seek the authourity mentioned above, I ask you this as a concerned & voting citizen.

Greetings!

I would like to voice my opposition to the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

Reporting of multiple sales of any kind of weapon is a senseless waste of time and money. BATFE could more wisely spend it's time and resources. After spending 28 years as a law enforcement officer I can with authority say that ANY law only affects law abiding citizens. Criminals on the other hand ignore any law they don't want to follow and then we have to try and catch them at it. They call them CRIMINALS for a reason. Statistics show that criminals and drug dealers don't purchase their weapons from licensed dealers. They already are prohibited from possessing weapons. What needs to happen is strict enforcement of the laws we already have. Time after time I've seen people prohibited from possessing weapons by Federal Law turned loose back into society to commit further crimes. The Cleveland school shooting in Stockton California in 1979 is a prime example and things haven't changed; actually they've gotten worse! Bottom feeding attorneys, activist judges and a bleeding heart liberal media have ruined what was once the best criminal justice system the world has ever seen. I strongly oppose any further restrictions on the 2nd amendment rights of our citizens, including "multiple sale or other disposition reports" especially under the guise of assisting Mexico with its problems.

Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Madam Terrell,

The only thing keeping this nation safe from anarchy and criminals is the fear from reprisal by America's gun owners! Long guns are used for sport, and home protection. It is our constitutional RIGHT to KEEP and BEAR arms. If you think the criminals will give up THEIR arms, you are wrong, and could easily be DEAD wrong if you run across one of them. Don't let this happen to America, help keep us strong. Look at the countries with the highest crime rates vs the ones with the lowest and you will find that legal guns keep citizens safe.

Outlawing guns will make outlaws of many innocent citizens. Arn't the courts overburdened enough already, dealing with REAL criminals?

Taxing guns and ammunition is not the answer to anything. It creates more bureacracy, paper-work and turmoil in the lives of sportsmen and could easily wreck the economic lives of those in that field.

Keep America Strong! Keeps it's citizens armed!

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns. The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Please stop the incessant encroachment on law abiding citizen rights. Please do your job with the established protocols and enforcement powers you currently have. Please do your job and target the criminals that ignore the rule and laws of the land.

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Ms. Terrel, I am writing in regard to the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles".

This requirement will only affect the law abiding people to whom it pertains. If one wishes to make an illegal purchase or sale, they will not abide by it anyway. This is a more serious issue than can be handled by another rule. As I read the news, I do not see where the Mexican drug or weapons people abide by any rules.

This requirement will only create more paperwork and time consumption for the law enforcement and legitimate dealers. Please do not promote this requirement.

Gun control of any kind doesnot work. the collection of information is just another step in the wrong direction. How many people crossing our borders illegally would obey this rule. Remember Waco,that is what ATF does with information. Put criminals behind bars and not out on probation. I live in the country for the last 40 years & it took 20 minutes to get the law out here. Now for 40 years later it is still the same, My Wife & and I have to have our on protection

RE: 2010 Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles.

Sir/Madam;

I reviewing you statements and alleged concerns regarding long guns and the disposition relative to the Border states (and Mexico), I find it incredulous that your arguments are based on well discredited hypotheses. In fact, the DOJ/BATF's own internal information clearly notes the omission of basic sample statistics in question. Your Department has no reason to infringe on the rights of law abiding citizens of this Country; the issue is truly the control of the border. The premise that these long guns, originating in the US, end up being sold/transferred to Mexican gangs, by way of US dealers/gun owners is based on recovered (traceable) units. The estimate of guns from the US is artificially elevated, as those are the ONLY guns that can be traced; internal evidence states that the greater number of guns recovered are NOT traced back to the US, and therefore not included as part of the sample. At best, using the corrected sample, the percentage drops to less than 17%; a far cry from the 68% claimed in the (OFTEN STATED) BATF releases. In short, this new program would serve no purpose, other than to create an additional burden on legal gun stores and purchasers, and provide the BATF with another opportunity to circumvent the 2nd Amendment of the United States Constitution. The relevance of this seems to be more political in nature, as opposed to responding to what is a crisis on Mexico.

I/we support our LE, BATF, BP, DOJ agents, Military and other persons, but this real issue here is a serious lack of security on the border, not the illegal (or otherwise) transfer of long guns to Mexico. Mexico's quasi-dictatorship has led to its own internal problems, and penalizing law abiding Americans for the actions of another country's citizenry is akin to blaming the BATF for wildfires in another state; the two have no relevance to each other. This says nothing of the constitutionality of the proposed data collection proposal. In this era of increased personal responsibility, less government interference and a SERIOUS need to curtail excessive spending on outlandish pet projects, does the BATF really need the type of scrutiny this program will bring? The Department has many positive attributes and serves a vital function to our Nation's security, but this program serves neither.

Thank you for allowing me to comment according.

Subject: Reference: December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

Ms. Terrell:

Your organization has indicated a need to collect the following information, via Federal Register / Vol. 75, No. 242 / Friday, December 17, 2010 / Notices.

Need for Collection

The purpose of the information is to require Federal Firearms Licensees to report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics:

- (a) Semi automatic
- (b) a caliber greater than .22
- (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine

I have several issues with this proposal:

- Your organization has not indicated any statutory authority to collect this information as it pertains to rifles in your request. The only current authority involves handguns, not long guns (rifles or shotguns). If I am wrong regarding your statutory authority, please correct me and the rest of the gun owner rights community.
- There is no indication just what the goal or goals of this attempt to stretch the law will be, beyond harassing gun dealers and law-biding citizens who have passed the necessary background checks to acquire such weapons.
- The press discussion at that time indicated that it is supposed to be limited to certain states along the Mexican border, but the actual request in detail as published in the Washington Post on 17 December (or the Federal Register posting) does not indicate that limitation. It covers all United States territory; your organization could, for example, make a demand letter in Florida, or for that matter Alaska or Maine or Hawaii, if it suited your organizational fancy.

In addition, I have other issues with the process:

- It does not increase the credibility of your organization among the gun owner rights community, to which I belong, when this request was done when Congress was out of session, a new Congress was not yet established, on a Friday, and during the Christmas/New Years Holiday period.
- This effort appears to be a blatant bureaucratic move to both establish a power not granted by Congress and the President, and to please the shrinking anti-gun owner rights minority.

Your organization does great work dealing with explosives - for example McVey and the World Trade Center. Your efforts regarding firearms should be concentrated on picking up and sending prohibited persons to The Hotel Graybar, when they attempt to purchase firearms and fail the background check (or conversely fix the data file, if the person is denied due to an error there).

Subject: ATF Long Gun Sales Reporting...

Ms. Barbara Terrell

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is demanding the authority to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines. For example, a dealer would have to tell the government every time a deer hunter in Sacramento or Amarillo finds a good deal on a pair of semi-auto .30-06s like the popular Remington 7400.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations.

Thank you

Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010 (Volume 75, Number 242, Page 79021), 60-Day Emergency Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees. In short, the Congress has comprehensively defined what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms.

Even when ATF began to use demand letters to seek a broader range of firearm transaction records, one court upholding that program cautioned that the demand letter statute "is not a limitless delegation of authority" and "cannot be construed in an open-ended fashion." The scope of the proposed collection suggests in itself that the proposal exceeds ATF's statutory authority.

Now, ATF proposes to issue demand letters to approximately 8,500 licensees. That estimate appears to be based on the total number of licensed dealers and pawnbrokers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. If so, nearly one out of seven firearm retailers in the United States would receive demand letters for multiple rifle sales.

The burden estimate in the proposal appears to assume that each licensee subject to a demand letter will respond once during the proposed duration of the program. Given the great variety in size and sales volume among the thousands of licensees in the border states, this seems unlikely. Even if the burden estimate in the proposal is correct, it is unclear how ATF could make effective use of the large number of reports that would be generated. Recent media reports suggest that ATF is already unable to handle dealers' voluntary, real-time reports of possible "straw purchases." If processing thousands of additional mandatory reports takes even more resources away from investigating these suspicious transactions, the proposed information collection may be more harmful than helpful.

I am well aware that ATF would, understandably, like to take strong steps to address drug-related violence in Mexico. But lawlessness in Mexico—driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

Therefore, OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

Sir or Madam,

Please OPPOSE the “Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles.”

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Why do you people want our rights away? To restrict any type of long arm sales is a violation of our rights. You list caliber higher than a .22 and everyone one knows that a .22 is the most deadly. So it is plain to see that you are just trying to restrict long gun sales. How many eggs can I buy in 5 days? If I buy 4 guns a month I will still have 4 guns as if I bought them in one day. What are you gaining? Your proposed change is clearly an obvious attempt to restrict our rights.

I have a better idea, why not obey the constitution and protect our borders??????

Subject: Oppose Regulation Expanding Multiple Sale Reporting

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:

White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition:

(<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>).

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* "FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

* This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

(The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is demanding the authority to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines. For example, a dealer would have to tell the government every time a deer hunter in Sacramento or Amarillo finds a good deal on a pair of semi-auto .30-06s like the popular Remington 7400.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations.)

Barb , do you really think that moor regulation will stop , any moor non law abiding citizens from having them , auto or large capacity clips ? , lets give a example has the war on drugs ever stopped , I remember that big push back in the 1970 , did little or nothing , another thing are children , and I guess adults , are polluted with Hollywood movies that have to have affect on the way guns are used , I have a 13 year old boy , every time he is done playing / just x box that I would like to throw in the trash! My boy has a very mouthy attitude what is these products & movies that are socially excepted in are society , as norm , when we took God out of everything in this country this where the problems in are schools and every thing was socially excepted , or compromised , I see your point on the other hand you have people that every thing they don't stand for is not right to them / (minority) , yes I hunt and so does my boy , yes we target practice , yes we have a AK 47 , a 5 round clip would save me $ / the difference is / I don't like to Gulf / play basket ball / football / ect / there is aggressive behove there to maybe they should make nerf gulf balls , and soft rubber clubs / point,beingGuns are going to be in the hands of people that should not have them , no matter how hard we as a country try

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

ATF Long Gun Sales Reporting: I appose this, all it will do dramatically increase the cost of firearms and not do anything. Here's a novel idea, how about enforcing the existing laws and ship any and all the illegal people back to their country of origin, and stop trying to create unconstitutional laws against the law abiding people. Hmm, problem solved oh look at all the job openings as a result of all the illegal being shipped back. Oh while I have your attention, stop saying that 90% of the firearms used in Mexico come from U.S.A., Mexico only sends U.S.A. 3% of the firearms recovered in crimes.

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:

White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition:

(<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>

By taking this action, your agency would be acting outside of its authority, which could result in efforts to restrict further abuse of agency authority.

Dear Mrs. Terrell,
Re: 12/17/2010 Notice of information collection under review.

Listen to America and to common sense. The suppressive action of requiring the "Report of multi sale or other disposition of certain rifles" via a end round play of sending "Demand Letters" to a large number of dealers is just wrong and usurps the rights of many more law abiding citizens than it will ever do to suppress the illegal sales of firearms to drug dealers and cartels. Your freedom as well as ours is the overall goal . Thomas Jefferson said, " the strongest reason for the people to keep and bear arms is, as the last resort, to protect themselves against a tyranny in government." George Washington said, " The very atmosphere of firearms anywhere and everywhere restrains evil interference. They (guns) deserve a place of honor with all that is good." Look beyond political pressure, look to what you know is right for the future. We must be able to protect ourselves from crime and tyranny. Local law enforcement and/or government cannot do it. Realistically most of the time law enforcement and government are just there to collect the evidence, after the fact.

Best regards,
Gerald K. Majors, D.V.M.

Ms Terrell

It appears you are treading on the rights of us, the American people by proposing this law of having two or more fire arms above 22 cal. to be registered. What right does that give you to supercede the Constitution of allowing us citizens the right to purchase more than two firearms a day?

It appears that we are again being a right the is given to us by our founding fathers many years ago. It seems to me that the government must be becoming fearful of its citizens if they are permitting laws like this to go into effect.

Have you thought of who is going to control the paperwork?
Have you thought of where the paperwork will be kept?
Have you thought of who will peruse the paperwork to ensure it is correct?
Oh I know....you're going to enlarge the government once again.

Thank you for our time. A concerned citizen.... Gerald Sedrick, Sprindale, AR

This seems like a procedure that will cause the Agents of the ATF a lot of additional work. It will be easily defeated with the person who buys a rifle every 6 days, so there is other bells and whistles you could use, like if they buy 10 long guns that might raise the red flag.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Dear Ms. Terrell,

It is understandable that the ATF would like to take steps to address drug-related violence in Mexico, but criminals in Mexico gain access for firearms in many ways... most notably the international black markets. Their illegal actions should not be used as an excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to illegally collect sales information of legal sales in the US to law abiding citizens. Instead, please spend those resources enforcing the existing laws and sales requirements.

Sincerely,

Hello Ms. Terrell,

I wish to voice my opinion on the proposed granting of authority to the BATFE regarding long gun sales reporting in certain states: I do not believe this action will be helpful, and will allow for further unlawful burdens on law-abiding citizens and firearms dealers. It is already illegal for straw-purchases to be made. We don't need any more regulation.

Thank you for your consideration.

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Dear Ms. Terrell,

I am a law abiding American Citizen, and I think that I should not be penalized for buying more than one rifle within any period of time, regardless of the magazine type, or caliber.

Emphasis should be placed on apprehending those individuals who illegally obtain firearms and then use them, as criminals against U.S. citizens. There should be no blanket law that inhibits an honest American Citizen from buying any type of semi-automatic rifle. We have the right to defend ourselves against the lawless, without being scrutinized like criminals ourselves.

Barbara -

Our constitution and Congress have spelled out the rights of US Citizens with regard to sales of firearms. The Obama administration is overstepping their authority (via the BATAF). The December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles." asks for comments and you may record my comments as being against the BATAF proposal which would affect only citizens of 4 states bordering Mexico. This is discrimination in the highest degree.

Your job is to enforce the law - NOT to decide what the law shall be. That is up to Congress and the court system. I am a law abiding US Citizen, and the administration and government agencies should not abuse your power or authority which is governed by the US Constitution. The government has no right to institute gun registration and it is a violation of our freedoms. Concentrate on Mexico and illegal sales on the international market and leave US Citizens and gun dealers alone.

I am not in favor and do not support the idea of gun registration at any level. As an American who believes in the Constitution, I expect my public officials to follow our nations laws. As you know, Congress has defined in detail what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. American gun owners, retailers, and Second Amendment supports are not the cause of drug-related violence in Mexico. The cartels shop and trade in the world of the international black market.

There is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers. ATF long gun sales reporting is not an answer.

Is it not the role of the government to do as the citizens ask? Where has our government for the people gone? The government has gone out of control and needs to start listening to what the people want rather than taking away our constitutional rights.

Subject: RE: ATF bypassing Gun Control Act

Thank you for your comment regarding the 60-day emergency notice of information collection relating to ATF Form 3310.12 (Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles), published in the Federal Register on December 17, 2010. The Federal Register and supplement form may be found at: <http://www.atf.gov/regulations-rulings/rulemakings/general-notices.html>

The primary purpose of this program is to improve law enforcement's ability to identify firearms traffickers, to disrupt the criminal activity and to stop deadly violence plaguing the Southwest Border States and Mexico. The multiple sales reports will apply only to rifles that are semi-automatic, greater than .22 caliber, and have the ability to accept a detachable magazine. ATF intends to implement this program to require that Federal firearms licensees in the States of California, Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas complete the form for those transactions in which an individual purchases two or more of these rifles within five business days. We intend to evaluate the results at the end of a 1 year pilot period, at which time ATF may expand, narrow or discontinue the program.

As mentioned in the notice, if granted by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), the emergency approval of the form is valid for 180 days. All comments received in response to the notice will be carefully considered and, if warranted, revisions to the form will be made.

I am strongly opposed to such a pilot program. It violates the constitution and should not be put into effect.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Dear Barbara A. Terrell

There is no need for additional firearm registration in the USA. I also don't believe there is any justification for creating additional rules for states that touch the Mexican border. If this matter should be put up for vote you will find most U.S. Citizens are not in favor in giving the ATF anymore authority than that which presently exist.

The business of registering sales of long guns in any state is another attempt to take away Americas individual rights and to make an illegal registration program by administration. This attempt is flying in the face of the lies that have been perpetrated on the American people about illegal gun trafficking into Mexico. We already know that that is a lie as the Mexican Drug Cartells get their military weapons from their own military and foreign sources other than the US. Stop the manipulation and protect Americans, close the borders to illegal immigrants, remove the illegal immigrants from American soil, and stop giving illegal immigrants rights that are for Americans only.

Ms Terrell, Existing laws are broken one at a time by criminals who can and should be prosecuted for those violations. Enacting more rules ,more paperwork and more training for an already overburdened agency does not advance the efforts to diminish the illegal behavior rather it saps the resources of the ATF that could be better directed at putting violators of existing laws into the courts.

Your proposal once again is cutting into the rights of the working, taxpaying citizen. Your actions are understood but this will not eliminate or even restrict the movements of the illegal and legal individuals conspiring to the immense crimes that you are focusing on to stop. I do respect your efforts to counter these groups and I support you entirely but such measures as this should not inhibit the good people while enabling the people in crime to push out the common citizen with no defense in their personal future. I support loosening the policing restrictive laws to give you more uninterrupted means to tackle these issues HEAD ON without such prohibitive limits. Allow the U.S. citizens supporting this country to be able to individually fight back for all they have earned when necessary.

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Barbara,

When I heard BAFT's latest consideration to start registering long guns in select states that border Mexico I thought it was a joke. Then I read further and discovered that it is really a serious consideration. Do you guys not have enough on your hands trying to enforce existing laws and do you think other agencies are sitting around waiting to help?

Mexico's gang/drug problem is a serious one but existing gun laws prevent the same problem you are proposing to fix. Obviously I am not a supporter of the proposed new policy. The criminals and people who aren't following the existing laws won't follow this one either. Focus on dealers or individuals that are contributing to the problem and leave the rest of us law abiding citizens alone and don't waste my tax dollars further.

Thanks!

I am dead set against the proposed authority of the BATFE to require the registering of any and all firearms sales in the four border states and any other state. My Constitution doesn't allow this infringement on my rights or any other law abiding citizens. If our government and the government of Mexico feel that there is a problem of guns crossing the border then maybe they need to defend the border better and not blame our Constitution for the problem.

By the way, last I knew, defending our borders is already a law!

Subject: Long Gun Sales Reporting

Dear Ms. Terrell:

I am outraged by the Federal Government's relentless attempts to destroy the Second Amendment. The latest maneuver is the "Long Gun Sales Reporting" charade. The reason the Second Amendment is only second is that the right to Free Speech and Freedom of Religion are the foundational baseline for a true definition of freedom. The Second Amendment was strategically placed where it is so that we can properly defend our rights under the First Amendment. The founders were aware of the danger of governments that take away the citizens' ability to bear arms; thus the Second Amendment is so vital to the making the government accountable to the citizens (the government's employers).

History has proven that every country that has taken guns away from its citizens have turned around and committed mass genocide; mainly because the governments didn't have to be concerned that the citizens would have the ability to defend themselves.

Switzerland has recognized the inherent danger in a country's citizens being unarmed. Indeed, that country mandates gun ownership and appropriate training for all citizens. Many states in America are proposing the same policy.

The stock arguments are made by the anti-gun liberals that if there was gun control, the tragedy in Arizona would not have happened. The fact is, that if anyone in that crowd had been carrying, the killer would not have gotten the second shot off.

Gun control only keeps guns out of the hands of decent law-abiding citizens. I can guarantee you (and this fact is also painfully obvious to you) that anyone can walk down the streets in South Central LA; St. Louis; Harlem; etc. and buy any kind of gun they want on any street corner. Unfortunately, the only people who do are criminals.

The Long Gun Reporting proposal is nothing more than the "thin end of the wedge" for the Federal Government to eventually obliterate our guaranteed rights under the Second Amendment. The undisputed facts are that every state that has conceal carry has a dramatically lower violent crime rate than every state that does not.

The only plus in the proposed law will be in favor of the liberal activists in government, who have never been face-to-face with an armed criminal, but all of whom have heavily armed bodyguards. Well, each and every one of us out here (who pay the salaries of those trying to destroy the Constitution) have the right to be our own bodyguards. Anything less would be to create a situation similar to Nazi Germany with the Government's random extermination of countless millions of citizens, based on the whim of whomever is "in charge" at the time.

Leave our rights alone. Leave our handguns alone. Leave our long guns alone. If the government wants to stop the threat of violent crime and terrorism, the Justice department can get up off of its behind and arrest, prosecute, and imprison the real criminals and terrorists. Indeed, organizations like the ACLU have been responsible for the release of violent felons into the community because the government was afraid of not being politically correct.

Remember that a liberal is nothing more than a Conservative who has not yet been the victim of a violent crime.

Thank you for doing the right thing.

Gun control is a high priority here in Thailand, but bears little benefit. Criminals, drug dealer, drug runner, etc., are well equipped here in Thailand and in spite of Thai authorities in the border regions being well equipped too, drugs still enter the Country and civilians are still easy prey for these undesirables in Thai Society.

Your efforts are misplaced. Focus on the bad guys and their money flow. Focus on their methods of infiltration and exfiltration and less on ordinary people just trying to live their lives.

i want to express my complete displeasure at the idea that the atf is demanding authority to require registration of rifles in states bordering mexico. there is no legitimate proof that sales of guns of any kind in these states have contributed to increased violence along the border or anywhere else. drug lords don't buy in the u s guns two or three at a time then smuggle them across the boarder. they buy a plane full from the middle east and have them flown in to there private airport. registration won't help. instead it will create additional costs to local and federal government when they are already so strapped that bankruptcy is considered.

the atf has no constitutional authority to require these registrations. this is no more than a veil attempt by the anti gun movement to get their foot in the door for registration of and then banning all firearms.

please do not allow my rights as a u s citizen to be unconstitutionally diminished.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

I am writing to provide my comments and feelings about this proposal - simply: IT IS WRONG!

Yes, I know, it has nothing to do with stepping on people's rights. We have heard it before. No, it is but a step if not used today will be used against the people tomorrow. IF you are concerned about weapons going into another country, do what is right. The problem is in Mexico! It is a corrupt government. It is the drug cartel. And, it spreads to America because we allow it to spread by not sealing the border. It is totally ridiculous and ludicrous that the strongest and only super power, the supposed leadership country of the free world, will not stand up to the corruption in Mexico and instead, let it spread into America thru a porous border. Seal the border and you will not have cartel members coming into America and trying to smuggle weapons into Mexico. Do not do something that can be turned against the people of America. You do not have to cave in to those in Congress who have forgotten the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

We encourage you to do the right thing, in line with the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States of America in a manner which cannot be turned against either document or we the people.

Thank you very much for your consideration.

To Whom it may concern,

I am in opposition to your propose requirement. It is just another way of government intruding in the constitutional. This proposed "Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010" nonsense as you know is directed at making it harder for law abiding citizens to buy legally sold guns. If you really want to do something constructive why not try to come up with a proposal that would protect gun owners rights and work harder on punishing criminals.

Respectfully Yours,

Subject: Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles
Attachments: ATFLongGunSalesReporting.pdf

In Reference to the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to offer my comments on this Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics:

(a) Semi automatic;

(b) a

caliber greater than .22; and (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine.

Now, the OMB has denied the "emergency" request. But regardless of the timeframe in which approval is sought, ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees.

The reasons for that lack of authority are, the Congress has comprehensively defined what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms. ATF seemed to understand that point when it responded in October to a recommendation for multiple long gun sales reporting by the Department of Justice Inspector General. ATF's comment on that recommendation was that it would "explore the full range of options" but that such a requirement "may require a change to the Gun Control Act."

1 These reports will be requested through "demand letters"—a mechanism that for many years had been used only to conduct firearm traces, to obtain aggregate manufacturing statistics, or to obtain contact information for buyers of certain firearms later declared to be subject to the National Firearms Act. Even when ATF began to use demand letters to seek a broader range of firearm transaction records, one court upholding that program cautioned that the demand letter statute "is not a limitless delegation of authority" and "cannot be construed in an open-ended fashion."

2 The scope of the proposed collection suggests in itself that the proposal exceeds ATF's statutory authority. The Fourth Circuit stressed that the letter at issue in the RSM case was sent to only 41 licensees out of the 80,000 licensees in the United States.

3 A second type of demand letter was sent to only 450 dealers nationwide.

4 Now, ATF proposes to issue demand letters to approximately 8,500 licensees. That estimate appears to be based on the total number of licensed dealers and pawnbrokers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. If so, nearly one out of seven firearm retailers in the United States would receive demand letters for multiple rifle sales.

The burden estimate in the proposal appears to assume that each licensee subject to a demand letter will respond once during the proposed duration of the program. Given the great variety in size and sales volume among the thousands of licensees in the border states, this seems unlikely.

Even if the burden estimate in the proposal is correct, it is unclear how ATF could make effective use of the large number of reports that would be generated. Recent media reports suggest that ATF is already unable to handle dealers' voluntary, real-time reports of possible "straw purchases."⁵ If processing thousands of additional mandatory reports takes even more resources away from investigating these suspicious transactions, the proposed information collection may be more harmful than helpful.

Lawlessness in Mexico—driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

Therefore, OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

Subject: ATFE Request for Reporting of Multiple Long Gun Sales

Ms. Terrell:

Thank you for your service to our great country!

I am forwarding NRA ILA's email by Mr. Cox for expediency's sake, with a few comments of my own.

I am a retired State of California bureaucrat and appreciate how much time you devote to matters like this. I have mixed emotions, frankly, about the ATFE's proposal regarding "Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles".

On one hand, I have no real objection to having a Federal Firearm Licensee (FFL) complete a "12 minute" form when a single purchaser buys two or more rifles (as specified) within five business days. That seems to be a rare enough occurrence that the paperwork would not be too much to handle. The assumption, of course, would be that the FFL would have to keep track of customers (which they already do) to know about the repeat purchases to trigger the need for reporting. In the case of a small FFL, this seems like no big deal. In the case of a large FFL (e.g., Bass Pro, Big 5 Sports, Sportsman's Warehouse, and some large online retailers), this could require a programming change to their computer system trigger notification (could be costly).

On the other hand, having struggled with many "requirements" over the years in California's bureaucracy, there is a potential for incredible paperwork load and resource requirements, which may have been neither intended by ATFE, nor mentioned by NRA ILA. In the ATFE request (Fed. Register Vol. 75, No. 242/ ...Dec. 17, 2010...page 79021), they mention in "Need for Collection", first paragraph (in part):

"...require Federal Firearm Licensees to report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics..."

There is no mention of sales to the same customer.

If not clarified, this proposed reporting requirement if approved, could result in FFLs having to submit a report every five-day period when they have more than two sales of the specified rifles. I would hope the FFL's business is profitable and successful. But I would not want them to have yet another report to submit and I would not want ATFE to have to receive and process that report every five days from thousands of FFLs.

I therefore urge clarification of this proposed requirement to specify that only sales to the same customer would need to be reported (excepting law enforcement and military sales, of course). If not clarified, I would urge denial of the ATFE's request.

Thank you for your time and your consideration.

Regards,

Subject: Act Immediately to Block ATF Long Gun Sales Reporting!

Act Immediately to Block ATF Long Gun Sales Reporting!

If you're one of the nearly 71 million Americans who live in the four southwest border states, some of your gun purchases could soon be reported to the federal government. And whether you live in one of those states or elsewhere, your help is needed now to stop the federal government's plan to register Americans' gun purchases.

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is demanding the authority to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines. For example, a dealer would have to tell the government every time a deer hunter in Sacramento or Amarillo finds a good deal on a pair of semi-auto .30-06s like the popular Remington 7400.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations.

Unfortunately, there are only a few days left to comment on this proposal. Comments will be accepted until Monday, February 14. Every concerned gun owner's voice should be heard on this critically important issue.

Subject: Oppose Regulation Expanding Multiple Sale Reporting

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.
<http://edocket.access.gpo.gov/2010/pdf/2010-31761.pdf>

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:
White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition:
(<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>).

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* "FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

* This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Since I don't have personal contact with the parties involved in formulating administrative rules and guidelines, I'll assume the efforts carry hopes of reducing crimes. I'm in favor of crime reduction efforts. This new rule would seem to be misguided though. It is very unlikely the licensed firearms dealers are committing crimes. I think the additional onerous paperwork requirements is targeting the wrong group of citizens. Please work against this idea of imposing new reporting requirements in this case. More laws and guidelines which reduce the constitutional freedoms of law-abiding citizens are not the remedy for criminal activity. Thank you for your time. Gordon Smith Portland,OR

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use it's authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Subject: Demanding Authority To Make Laws....

Ms. Terrell

I am writing as a concerned citizen, also a legal gun owner...For a number of years I was a licensed Gunsmith through B.A.T.F.,with that I also had the priviledge to sell firearms. I gave this position and license up because of the wrangling and reformatting of Gov. laws and restrictions...I am not a legal expert, but I feel that my 2nd. Amendment rights were being infringed,also I feel they still are...

My main reason now is the attempt of B.A.T.F. ,in their attempt to expand into an area that they are not legal in, as of Dec.17th 2010, "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

I think your officialdom has far too many restrictive laws that are left like many Government Laws, unattended, and infringing upon the citizens Constitutional Rights... This very non identifying request is open ended, and non describing of make, model, caliber, of weapons desired to review and no doubt confiscate...

There fore it is my feeling a strong non American act on part of this Agency is over stepping its boundary, also placing our local and Stats Law-enforcement into having to start an already over loaded paper work action that is unnecessary and facetious at its best... So I ask that your Bureau withdraw its attempt at this action, and save the citizens of this Country an already overloaded Tax Burden and unsettling action on your part...

Yours Truly

Subject: FW: Oppose Regulation Expanding Multiple Sale Reporting

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc.

2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:

White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition:

(<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>).

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* "FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

* This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Thank you for your time.

Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives

RE: The December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

Please be advised that I strongly disagree with this, and any other governmental firearm reporting and/or registry legislation, requirements, and rulings. I believe that a policy of enforcing the current laws is a far better way to deter illegal gun purchases, transfers, usage, and crimes.

To limit the activity of the lawful gun owners is counterproductive, excessive and oppressive governmental intervention, and one of the beginning steps toward confiscation, ostricism, and undue, undemocratic governmental intrusion. More and bigger government with more laws and rules are not the answers.

Thank you,

Greg Heller

A concerned 2nd amendment advocate, gun owner, and opponent of additional government controls.

 RE: The December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles", which is the government's plan for The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives demanding the authority to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines.

Subject: Proposed regulations to report multiple sale of certain rifles

Dear Sirs

It has come to my attention that the BATF is proposing new regulations to register rifles in the Southwestern States in violation of Federal Statutes. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns. The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

In a nation ruled by laws, not dictators, adherence to the law by those charged with enforcing those laws matters even more than having it's citizens obey the law. For if any government agency goes rouge and violates the laws passed by the representatives of the people, it loses all credibility. Without credibility the agency will be ignored, scorned and ridiculed by the citizenry. It is then force into a downward spiral of ever harsher and draconian enforcement tactics.

While attempting to create a crisis to try and justify these actions only create contempt for those attempting an end run around the law or worse, ignoring it.

I therefore respectfully ask you to reconsider any attempt to register semi-automatic rifles in the Southwestern states or any other region in the country.

Sincerely
Greg Trojan

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use it's authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Dear Ms. Terrell;

As to the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles".

It has come to my attention that the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is seeking the authority to require all firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, to submit a report on sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles (within a five consecutive business day period, for rifles larger than .22 caliber which use detachable magazines).

The ATF has no real authority to request such reports, and the flood of new paperwork which would result from the approval of this request, will surely waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on more legitimate activities.

I find this apparent overstepping of authority unsettling. It seems at every turn our rights as Americans are under attack, and continuously being abridged.

I would like to take this opportunity to voice my vehement disapproval of this proposal.

Sincerely,
Gregg Sorrell

Dear Barbara Terrell.

I am currently in Antarctica and so can respond only by email. I am commenting on the proposal by the BATF to implement new regulations that clearly exceed their statutory authority. I am referring to their blanket gun registration program titled "Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles. I understand we are supposed to submit our comments to the OMB, Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Attn. Department of Justice Desk Officer, Washington, DC 20503. However there is no time available as these comments are due on 14 February and our mail service has been cut off due to the closing of McMurdo station for the summer season. In addition mail normally takes over two weeks to reach any recipients.

I wish to make it clear that I believe that BATF is exceeding their jurisdictional Authority and that this rule change is illegal and is a bona fide gun registration scheme in contradiction to the will of Congress and the American People.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely

Gregg Leibert

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

To start with, The ATF has no authority to even request this. There is already too much paperwork and red tape that our citizens have to put up with to be able to enjoy their quality of life and lifestyles. The cost of this would put an extra burden on everyone involved at a time when everyone is struggling to get by. This country desperately needs to follow Arizona's lead in dealing with the enormous problem that we have from our neighbor south of the border, who is rapidly ruining and bankrupting our country. The ATF cannot be so stupid to believe that these people cannot get their guns off of the black market. Wake up.

Dear Ms. Terrell,

Please be advised that I am a U.S. citizen, born & raised in this country!

I am adamantly opposed to any additional regulation imposed upon the citizens of this country.

I make specific reference to your attempt, BATFE's, to mandate the "Reporting of Multiple Sales or Other Disposition of Semi-Automatic Rifles Larger Than .22 Caliber Sold Along Certain Southern Border States."

This proposal is being put forth under the guise of stopping the flow of firearms to Mexico.

Until Mexico cleans up the corruption in its own government, military, law enforcement & eliminates the multi-billion dollar drug trade & pay offs, the gun trafficking & killings will continue!

It is not up to the U.S. government or the U.S taxpayers to "fix" Mexico's problems!

I believe the BATFE's proposed regulation is unnecessary & not allowed under Federal law. It is my belief that Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Re: Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010 (Volume 75, Number 242, Page 79021), 60-Day
Emergency Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to offer my comment on this Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics: (a) Semi automatic; (b) a caliber greater than .22; and (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine.

I fully support the NRA and its concerns. thanks Greg Wadle

Subject: Registered voters opposed to December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles"

Saturday, February 12, 2011

Dear Ms. Terrell,

I am writing you this letter today because a particular proposed mandate presented by the BATF & E that has come to my attention as well as others in our community and we are very concerned about the outcome of this request. The mandate that I referring to is: December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles". After carefully reviewing the contents of this measure and speaking with fellow registered voters, the overwhelmingly response to this plan has been negative. With this being said, we your fellow Americans must appeal to your common sense in this matter and request that you withdraw this proposed measure, as well any other measure of this kind.

Please keep in mind that the voters of this state will be closely following the outcome of this bill and your position on it. Your consideration in this matter is greatly appreciated.

Respectfully,

Gabor R. Elody
